According to the plans formulated at an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night all local merchants and their employees would be invited to participate in this affair which it is expected will be the forerunner of a similar event annually.

Lower Gas Rate For House Heating

New gas rates recently approved by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities will give the typical gas house-heating customer of the Lawrence Gas company a 6% saving each year in his gas bill.

G. W. Culver, vice president and manager of the company, said the lower rates will be effective May 1. The new rate will be available to all domestic customers who use gas for heating their homes. The rate is also available for space heating or air conditioning for commercial and industrial purposes.

In the outfield Tom Pearl, Larry Lynch and Nick Mullick comprise the starting trio with Bob Lefebvre and Dick Lawrence slated to see considerable action during the season.

Oil And The Atom

Announcements concerning the construction of atomic power plants and the recent launching of the navy's new submarine Nautilus are dramatic evidence that atomic power is here to stay.

A lot of people, including many experts both in and out of the industry, have spent considerable time finding out just what this is going to mean to the oil business. The results of all their study add up to just one thing. If you have any sound oil stock, hang on to it. It's going to be an extremely good bet for a long time to come.

Atomic scientist Harold C. Urey estimates that within the next 25 years atomic energy will be used to an important extent in the fueling of central power stations and possibly ships. Indications are that the oil industry may actually welcome a lessening in demand for the low grade fuels now used for those purposes. To meet the needs of future years, a much greater percentage of each barrel of crude oil will have to be utilized for the production of higher grade fuel such as gasoline. For example, it has been reliably estimated that domestic gasoline demand in 1967 will be 46 per cent greater than it was in 1951.

Though it has already developed hundreds of products ranging all the way from fabric to floor wax, the petrochemical industry has barely scratched the surface.

Atomic energy then, though it may change the pattern of demand, is not likely to alleviate our heavy dependence on oil and its products. Judging by past performance the industry will more than be able to meet every demand of the American people, but it all depends on one thing. As a spokesman for the industry put it, "All long range speculation about the future of the oil industry must necessarily presume that oil companies will remain free to compete, for competition is the secret of progress."

Guarantee Of Value

All of us naturally like to find bargains. All of us, when shopping, try to get top return for each dollar spent. And in the long-run, the surest way to achieve that is to patronize established merchants who are concerned with the future – not just today's sales.

That was the theme of an editorial in the Garner, Iowa, Leader. The paper advised its readers: "In any hometown, the reputable merchants and dealers will be the kind of people that you like and trust. This editor does not think you will lose any peace of mind or money if you rely on them for good values at a fair price. I am sure you will find this procedure is much safer and simpler than searching for bargains in strange places."

Many a "bargain", bought at an alleged big discount from some fly-by-night operator, has proven worthless. The established local merchants have to protect their reputations – and that's your best guarantee of value.

TREATING A "NEW" DISEASE

By Science Features

A mysterious disease called pancreatic fibrosis affects one out of 600 infants. Treated for many years, as a combination of pneumonia and an intestinal disease causing malnutrition, it almost always proved fatal to the young sufferers. Even though thousands of children were affected, pancreatic fibrosis was regarded as a "new" disease by many doctors.

Finally, in 1938, Dr. Dorothy H. Andersen of Columbia University, put together the symptoms and various changes made on the body by pancreatic fibrosis, and medical science recognized the "new" disease.

Pancreatic fibrosis produces a double attack on youngsters. A heavy mucus liquid forms in the lungs causing a severe cough and hampering breathing. This condition also results in frequent infections, such as pneumonia and bronchitis. The second set of symptoms affects the pancreas and it fails to deliver its quota of enzymes to the digestive system. The children, though they eat large amounts of food, are underweight and suffer from malnutrition.

As a result of medical research, better methods for treating these patients have been evolved. A series of tests on 49 patients was recently conducted for 15 months by four Boston doctors. They found that the broad-range antibiotics, such as terramycin, were the most effective in this disease, protecting the child against lung infections and at the same time stimulating his growth. With proper diet and careful treatment, the children now have a new lease on life.

An American Says:-

Note: — More than a million high school students throughout the United States recently participated in an essay contest on the subject "I Speak For Democracy," sponsored by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sixteen-year-old Elizabeth Ellen Evans, who attends Buchtel High School in Akron, Ohio, was a national winner in this contest. She is the daughter of an employee of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company.

The appealing thing about this essay is that it is an affirmation of belief, not simply an attack on Communism.

I Speak for Democracy

By Elizabeth Ellen Evans

I am an American.

Listen to my words, Fascist, Communist.

Listen well, for my country is a strong country, and my message is a strong message.

I am an American, and I speak for democracy.

My ancestors have left their blood on the green at Lexington and the snow at Valley Forge

. . . on the walls of Fort Sumter and the fields at Gettysburg

. . . on the waters of the River Marne and in the shadows of the Argonne Forest

. . . on the beachheads of Salerno and Normandy and the sands of Okinawa

. . . on the bare, bleak hills called Pork Chop and Old Baldy and Heartbreak Ridge.

A million and more of my countrymen have died for freedom.

My country is their eternal monument.

They live on in the laughter of a small boy as he watches a circus clown's antics

. . . and in the sweet, delicious coldness of the first bite of peppermint ice cream on the Fourth of July

. . . in the little tenseness of a baseball crowd as the umpire calls "Batter up!"

. . . and in the high school band's rendition of "Stars and Stripes Forever" in the Memorial Day parade

. . . in the clear, sharp ring of a school bell on a fall morning

. . . and in the triumph of a six-year-old as he reads aloud for the first time.

They live on in the eyes of an Ohio farmer surveying his acres of corn and potatoes and pasture

. . . and in the brilliant gold of hundreds of acres of wheat stretching across the flat miles of Kansas

. . . in the milling of cattle in the stockyards of Chicago

. . . the precision of an assembly line in an automobile factory in Detroit

. . . and the perpetual red glow of the nocturnal skylines of Pittsburgh and Birmingham and Gary.

They live on in the voice of a young Jewish boy saying the sacred words from the Torah: "Hear O Israel: the Lord our God, the Lord is One. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy might."

. . . and in the voice of a Catholic girl praying: "Hail, Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee . . . "

. . . and in the voice of a Protestant boy singing: "A mighty Fortress is our God, A Bulwark never failing . . . "

An American named Carl Sandburg wrote these words:

"I know a Jew fishcrier down on Maxwell Street with a voice like a north wind blowing over corn stubble in January.

He dangles herring before prospective customers evincing a joy identical with that of Pavlova dancing.

His face is that of a man terribly glad to be selling fish, terribly glad that God made fish, and customers to whom he may call his wares from a pushcart."

There is a voice in the soul of every human being that cries out to be free. America has answered that voice.

America has offered freedom and opportunity such as no land before her has ever known, to a Jew fishcrier down on Maxwell Street with the face of a man terribly glad to be selling fish. She has given him the right to own his pushcart, to sell his herring on Maxwell Street,

. . . she has given him an education for his children, and a tremendous faith in the nation that has made these things his.

Multiply that fishcrier by 160,000,000—160,000,000 mechanics and farmers and housewives and coal miners and truck drivers and chemists and lawyers and plumbers and priests — all glad, terribly glad to be what they are, terribly glad to be free to work and eat and sleep and speak and love and pray and live as they desire, as they believe!

And those 160,000,000 Americans — those 160,000,000 free Americans — have more roast beef and mashed potatoes, the yield of American labor and land;

. . . more automobiles and telephones,

. . . more safety razors and bathtubs,

. . . more Orlon sweaters and aureomycin,

the fruits of American initiative and enterprise;

. . . more public schools and life insurance policies,

the symbols of American security and faith in the future;

. . . more laughter and song —

than any other people on earth!

This is my answer, Fascist, Communist!

Show me a country greater than our country, show me a people more energetic, creative, progressive — bigger - hearted and happier than our people, not until then will I consider your way of life. For I am an American, and I speak for democracy.

WEDDINGS...

SERIO — POMERLEAU

At a 10 o'clock ceremony in the Sacred Heart church, Lawrence, Monday, Apr. 19, Lillian B. Pomerleau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Pomerleau, 240 Hillside rd., North Andover, became the bride of Frank Serio Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serio of Lowell Junction. The Rev. Emile Archambault, S.M., officiated. Mrs. Arthur Scott was at the organ and the soloists were Miss Irene Libby and Armand Morrisette.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle which featured a lace bodice with high pointed collar. The bouffant skirt of tulle was accented with a large lace panel in the front and the long cathedral train was lavishly bordered with chantilly lace. Her half hat of lace trimmed with pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of imported French illusion. She carried a white marble prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of white satin ribbon, sweet peas and stephanotis.

Jeanne Pomerleau of North Andover was the maid of honor, and Theresa Hatem of Lawrence bridesmaid. They were attired in gowns of embroidered nylon net of taffeta, strapless with pleated shoulderettes, and front panel skirts draped to bustle backs of tierred ruffles of nylon net. Their matching caps had open crowns, studded with irridescent sequins and nose veils.

Robert Sax of Attleboro was best man and the ushers were Alan Petti and Edward Henderson of Andover, and Edmund Solomon of Lawrence.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue lace dress with a white flowered hat and orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore pink crepe with lace insertions, a pink hat and an orchid.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Red Hill Country club. Out-of-town guests were present from Montreal, Boston, Taunton, Malden, Natick, Attleboro, Methuen and Andover.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will reside at 240 Hillside ave., North Andover.

The bride was employed in the Bay State Merchants National bank. The bridegroom is a graduate of Burdette college and was discharged Apr. 16 as airman, first class, from the U.S. air force.

It's suprising how TV engineers can time the introduction of improved models to fit the last installment on your old one.

Some folks run into trouble and then try to back out of it.

RETELLE — GLOVER

At a 2 o'clock ceremony Sunday in St. Patrick's church, Lawrence, Helen Marjorie Glover of Lowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Glover of Danbury, N.H., became the bride of Philip Retelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Retelle of River rd. The Rev. Francis X. Cotrell officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Wilbur Marden of Nashua, N.H., wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace over Skinner satin with a fingertip veil of illusion and carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Marjorie Retelle, as maid of honor, wore blue silk organdy over taffeta with a matching hat and carried a colonial bouquet of white violets with American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids, Jacqueline and Carolyn Perron of Lowell, wore pink silk organdy over taffeta with matching hats and carried colonial bouquets of purple violets and yellow roses. Mrs. Retelle wore a light blue dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Albert Retelle was the best man and the ushers were James Retelle of Lawrence and Rudy Perron of Lowell.

After a wedding trip through New York state and to Niagara Falls the couple will live in Nashua, N.H.

The bride attended the Andover (N.H.) high school and the Concord (N.H.) Commercial college, and was employed with the Sprague Electric company, Nashua, N.H. The bridegroom attended Lawrence high school and the N. E. Aircraft school, Boston. He served with the navy in World War II and is employed at the Hanscom airbase, Bedford.

Another thing this country needs is more individual thinking and less mob guessing.

Many times a model husband is side-tracked for a new model.

TRADE BOARD PLANS FOR SPRING OUTING

the highly publicized colored film showing many of the historical and recreational features of Andover and Essex county will be included in the program.

The local board of trade has been successful financially and otherwise in the two big events it recently sponsored — the Christmas lighting and the Hardy testimonial banquet — both of which received much favorable comment.

For some time it has been felt that some such social event as the one now contemplated would be received with enthusiasm by local merchants and their employees and this open meeting and social will be an opportunity for them to enjoy a get-together in an evening's entertainment which will mark another successful achievement of the board.

President Donald B. Look and Executive Secretary James R. Mosher will soon announce the committees to complete arrangements for the affair.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR P.H.S. NINE

ver will split the catching duties for the team this year. John Murray's pitching has been outstanding to date and with Bob Grudzinski, Tom Pearl and one or two other twirlers to be called upon for mound duties, the pitching will be adequate.

Dick Lumenello, Bob Leete, Dick Smith, Jimmy Adams and Phil Spinney, other members of the squad are ready to be called upon for service as the season progresses.

So far the hitting has been satisfactory and with a little improvement in defense the Punchard team should move forward through another good season.
